Response of Senator Fairbanks, Senator Farbanks was given another ovalion as he arose to accept the nomination. He said:

"Mr. Root and Gentlemen of the Committee:

"I thank you for the very generous terms in which you have conveyed the official notification of my nomination for Nice-President of the United States. The unsolicited and unanimous nomination by the Republican party is a call to duty which I am pleased to obey.

They give vitality to our manufactures and commerce, and if impaired or overthrown, there would inevitably ensue a period of industrial depression, to the serious injury of the vast interests of both labor and cupital.

The Gold Standard.

The Gold Standard.

"The Republicum party, since it preserved the integrity of the republic and gave freedom to the oppressed, never rendered a more important service to the country than when it established the gold standard. Under it we have increased our currency supply sufficiently to meet the rormal requirements of business. It is gratifying that the convention made frank and explicit declaration of the inflexible purpose of the party to maintain the gold standard. It is essential not only that the standard should be as good as the best in the world, but that the people should have the assurance that it will be so maintained.

"The enemies of sound money were powerful enough to suppress mention of the gold standard in the platform lately adopted by the Democratic National Convention. The leader of Democracy in two great national campaigns has declared since the adjournment of the convention that as soon as the election is over he will undertake to organize the forces within the Democratic party for the next national context, for the purpose of advancing the radical policies for which his element of the party stands. He frankly says that the money question is for the present in abeyance. In view of these paipable facts, it is not the part stands. finds complete justification in the lindustrial development of the country. This policy has become a most vital part of our industrial system, and must be maintained unimpaired. When altered conditions make changes in schedule destrable, their modification can be safely entrusted to the Republican party. If they are to be changed by the enemies of the systion along free trade lines, uncertainty will take the place of certainty, and a reaction would surely follow, to the injury of the wage carners and all who are now profitably employed. Uncertainty undermines confidence, and loss of confidence breeds confusion and distress in commercial affairs.

"The convention was wise not only in its enunciation of party policies, but in its enunciation of party policies, but in its enunciation of a candidate for the presidenty During the last three years President Roosevelt has been confronted with large and serious questions. These he has met and solved with high wisdom and courage. The charges made against him in a Democratic platform find an irrefutable answer in his spiendid administration, never surpassed in all the history of the republic, and never equaled by the party which seeks to discredit it. The election of the President is imperatively demanded by those whose success depended the properties of the section of the President is imperatively demanded by those whose success dependent things accomplished in the public interest. Both speeches were met with frequent outbursts of appliause. As Senator Fairbanks concluded there were cordial greetings all around.

"The serious effect of such an event upon the government and upon the business interests and general welfare of the country and the serious effect even of the continual menace of such an event upon the sovernment and upon the business interests and general welfare of the country and the serious effect even of the continual menace of such an event, must be apparent to every thoughtful mind.

Strong and Middle-Aged.
"In your election, on the other hand, this chief requirement will be fully met. In the full strength of middle life you age prepared for the exhausting duties of the presidency. Your successful and distinguished carrier, the ability and probity with which you have already discharged the duties of high office, the universal respect and esteem of the people of Indiana who have delighted to honor you, the attachment of hosts of friends throughout the Union-all assure us that you have the character and the ability to govern wisely and signally should you become President. WEST VIRGINIA CONVENTION

Candidate for Vice-President Gets Great Ovation and Makes Short Speech.

(By Associated Press.)
PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Aug. 3.—Th emocratic State Convention was in session two hours this afternoon and almos regular order of business, which was left voted to oratory, much of which was in favor of a distinctly "white man's party."

It is stated that while Henry O. Iravis favors the so-called "Lily White" policy, he does not consider it expedient to insert such a plank in the platform at this time. It is currently reported that he and others have received telegrams from members of the National Committee and other leaders, especially in New York, that such a plank in the platform would have a bad effect in doubtful States at fals time.

The Committee on Resolutions is believed to be opposed to inserting such a plank at this convention. It is reported to night that two members refuse to desist in deference to the wish of Mr. Davis and that the convention was held over until to-morrow in the hope of preventing a "Lily White" minority report.

Mr. Thompson, of Huntington, and State Senator John Cornwell, of Hampshire, are we night the most prominent candidates for the nomination for governor.

The Wigwam's seating capacity of 2,700 was taken with standing room in demand, when the convention was called to order by Colonel Thomas B. Davis, a brother of the vice-presidential candidate, and chairman of the State Committee, who announced John T. McGraw, of Grafton, as temporary chairmap; Mr. McGraw said among other things:

"The record of President Roosevelt's administration is one of promises broken and covenants unfulfilled. William McRinley cauterized the wounds of Civil War, wiped out the last vestige of sectional hate and rancor, only to have them reopened by Theodore Roosevelt in breaking bread under the national roof with one whom God had not made as his social equal; in imposing upon southern people men of linke color as their public servants and political peers, and in attempting, by a plank in his party's platform, to disfranchise southern representatives and nullify southern votes in the electoral college."

On reassembling in the evening the convention indulged in a long continued demonstration as former Benator Davis entered the Wigwam. Mr. Davis thanked the convention for its hearty greeting and hoped its harmony and enthusiasm would continue until November. He said in part:

"I cannot refrain from an expression of my gratification at this large and enthusiastic convention of Democrats in West Virginia that pervades the Democracy Ihroughout all' sections of the country. Our national standard-beare, Judge Parker, will on the tenth day of this month be formally notified of his nomination, and in the acceptance thereof, will naturally give his views upon the questions at issue in the campaign. A week later I will be notified at White Sulphur Springs of my nomination for the office of Vice-President, and at that time it will be my duty to give some the office of Vice-President, and at that time it will be my duty to give some expression to my views on political issues. It is, therefore, I think, my duty both to our candidate for the presidency and to our party that I should not now enter into a discussion of the issues."

As Mr. Davis was concluding, some one yelled: "Hurrah for a white man's party." when Mr. Davis replied: "certainly agree with you on the white man proposition." Then followed a rousing demonstration that lasted some moments. The reports of all the committees were adopted, except that on resolutions, 'MOJJOU-03 [Hun Appeal eq 201 [HA HO]][M

MR.HILL CONFERS WITH D. L. LAMONT

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, August 3.—The interesting political event of the day was a meeting between Daniel S. Lamont and David B. Hill. It is understood that the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York was the subject of discussion, although other features of the campaign were under consideration. Men who have been close associates of Mr. Lamont, say that this is not the first year that he has been approached by Democratic politicians with the suggestion that he be a candidate for Governor. On former occasions he has indicated that he would like to be Governor some time, but always put it off, saying the right

'The admiration Mr. Bryan has for Judge Parker is not half-hearted. He said to me that Judge Parker's tele-gram to the convention showed courage and that a man who could so bravely confess his convictions is a suitable standard bearer for the party and one that every Democrat can endore and support with credit to himself.'

Mr. Wall was asked about the report that Mr. Bryan while supporting the ticket, would not speak directly in favor of Judge Parker's election. He said em-phatically:

The Wisconsin Situation.

Judge Parker was greatly interested in the Wisconsin situation. Mr. Wall told him that while the State, under normal him that while the State, under normal conditions gives twenty thousand plurality to the Republicans, the breach between the LaFolette and the "Stalwarts" factions is of such a nature that it cannot be healed. He expressed the belief that if the Democrats who supported Governor LaFoliette two years ago for the purpose of administering a rebuke the faction badded by Searce Species. the purpose of administering a rebuke to the faction, headed by Senator Spooner and Congressiman Babcock return to the party, there is no doubt that the Democratic State ticket will be elected. Discussing the division in Wisconsin's Republican ranks, Mr. Wall said that while the two factions have named the same set of electors, the law enacted a few years ago to take advantage of a break in the Democratic party would now work against the Republicans. Under this law the same name cannot appear twice on the ballot. The electors will be placed on the ballot over the ticket of the "Stalwarts" or over La-Follette faction. Whichever faction wins this distinction, said Mr. Wall, will get the vote of the party men, who always this distinction, said Mr. Wall, will get the vote of the party men, who always votes the straight ticket, but if a rep-resentative of the other faction wants to cast his ballot for the Republican electors and his own Siqte, ticket, it will be necessary for him to place a cross before the name of every person on the ticket for whom he desires to vote.

Will Cause Defection.

Mr. Wall expressed the bellef that this fight will cause a defection to the Democratic floket.

"At any rate," he continued, "Wisconsin must at least he counted as one of the doubtful States."

Among the prominent visitors expected to-morrow are Senator Joseph W. Balley, of Texas; National, Committeeman H. D. Clayton and Colonel E. L. Russell, of Alabama. Colonel Russell is general solicitor of the Mobile and Ohio Railroad.
